In addition, students may minor in Art History, Fine Arts, or Digital Arts. Courses in art foundation studies and liberal learning are integral parts of the curriculum. The Art Department is committed to providing programs of study which develop a high level of conceptual and technical ability, resources beyond the studio for a broader education in the arts, exposure to and understanding of electronic media and methods of communication, and a balance between a demanding course of professional study and a liberal arts education.

The art facility features traditional studios as well as state-of-the-art computing and electronic media labs. The faculty of the Department of Art consists of scholars, exhibiting artists, and active professionals, and it is augmented by guest lecturers and adjunct professors who are practicing professionals in the New York-Philadelphia corridor. The department enjoys an enviable placement record in terms of graduate study and employment, and graduates of the program have attained positions of leadership in their respective fields. The College of New Jersey is located near the major art and design centers of New York and Philadelphia and students are encouraged and often required to visit museums, galleries, design studios, production houses, and other art facilities in these areas.

Program Entrance, Retention, and Exit Standards

Every major program at the College has set standards for allowing students to remain in that program, to transfer within the College from one program to another, and to graduate from a program. The following are the standards for art history. Minimum grades are noted in parentheses:

- Retention in the Art History major is based on the following performance standards in these “critical content courses”: AAH 105 (B), AAH 106 (B), and AAH 115, AAH 116 or AAH 117 (B).
- Transfer into the Art History major from another program within the College is based upon the following performance standards in these “foundation courses”: AAH 105 (B) and AAH 106 (B).
- Graduation requires a GPA of 2.0 in courses for the program and a minimum grade of C– in all major courses.

Attendance Requirements

Participation and attendance are considered essential to the learning process. More than two unexcused absences per course may prove detrimental to the student’s final grade.

Transfer Students

Transfer students into the Art History major are required to take a minimum of 6 course units in TCNJ’s Department of Art. The 6 course-unit minimum cannot include credit by examination or internships.

Art History Program (ARTH)

Riccardi, Coordinator

The art department offers a BA in Art History to majors, and art history also serves as part of the foundation program for other Department of Art majors. Additionally, it provides a minor for students majoring in art or any other field. Art history is a scholarly, academic discipline, and its study sharpens critical thinking and strengthens both writing and analytical skills. The program offers varied and exciting courses that include both western and non-western art, topics such as Women Artists in History, and various geographical and chronological studies. Students in a wide variety of majors may also use approved art history courses to fulfill liberal learning requirements. Students in the Honors Program further have the opportunity to combine the history of art with other disciplines such as history or literature in dynamic courses such as Paris Between the Wars, Cities and Sanctuaries of Ancient Greece, and The Holocaust in Art and Literature.

Art History Major

The major provides students with both broad introductory courses and specialized geographical and chronological studies emphasizing theory, methodology, and historiography of the discipline through a curriculum designed to provide both a well-rounded foundation and advanced study. The program utilizes the varied resources of museums and collections in the area through field trips and specialized object research. In order to promote cross-cultural exchange and exposure to art outside the area, students enrolled in the Art History major are required to study abroad for at least a summer and preferably a semester. The curriculum culminates in a senior capstone experience that allows Art History majors to develop an original research project and to demonstrate their critical thinking skills.
