

School of Culture and Society-1

School of Culture and Society

Dean: Susan Albertine; Assistant Dean: Rosa Zagari-Marinzoli

The School of Culture and Society is devoted to the humanities and social sciences, to disciplinary, interdisciplinary, and international study; to research for undergraduates; and to community-engaged teaching, research, and service. The School offers programs that prepare students for an array of careers and for graduate and professional study. We intend to educate lifelong learners, thoughtful leaders, and compassionate human beings prepared for global citizenship.