THE APPLICATION PROCESS FOR PROMOTION

I. OVERVIEW

The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) affirms that a community of learners and scholars is built around high expectations in which all members use their talents to make The College a better place. The process of promotion at TCNJ functions within this context. The promotion process supports the mission of The College through the recognition of faculty members and librarians who demonstrate continuous exemplary achievement in teaching (or librarianship), scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. The standards and procedures for promotion shall be fairly and equitably applied to all candidates, with the goal of supporting a culture in which promotion through the ranks is a regular part of a successful academic career.

The promotion process relies on peer evaluation and recognizes the distinctiveness of academic disciplines. Therefore, the departments (or programs where there are no departments) have the major responsibility for establishing guidelines for promotion, particularly for disciplinary scholarship, and for making initial promotion recommendations. The applications and departmental recommendations are then further considered first by a Dean and then by the College Promotions Committee (CPC) for the purpose of submitting recommendations to the President of The College.

II. BASES AND STANDARDS FOR PROMOTION: TEACHING OR LIBRARIANSHIP, SCHOLARLY/CREATIVE/PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY, AND SERVICE

A. Minimum Eligibility – Faculty

All faculty, including those not yet tenured, who meet the minimum requirements set out below are eligible to apply for promotion. The minimum qualifications by rank are:

1. Associate Professor

An earned doctorate or other appropriate terminal degree¹ from an accredited institution in an appropriate field of study and five (5) years of professional experience.

2. Professor

An earned doctorate or other appropriate terminal degree from an accredited institution in an appropriate field of study and ten (10) years of professional experience.²

² While ten (10) years of professional experience is the minimum threshold, candidates promoted to the rank of Professor at TCNJ average more than thirteen (13) years of professional experience. This minimum eligibility period for the rank of Professor shall take effect in the 2008-2009 academic year; thus, the former minimum eligibility period of eight (8) years of professional experience shall apply for all applicants to the rank of Professor who apply during the 2007-2008 academic year.

B. Minimum Eligibility – Librarians³

All librarians, including those not yet tenured, who meet the minimum requirements set out below are eligible to apply for promotion. The minimum qualifications by rank are:

1. Librarian II (concurrent rank is Assistant Professor in the library)

A Master's degree or its equivalent from an ALA-accredited program in library or information studies and three (3) years professional experience. A second master's degree in another subject area or reading competence in one (1) foreign language is desirable but not required.

2. Librarian I (concurrent rank is Associate Professor in the library)

A Master's degree or its equivalent from an ALA-accredited program in library or information studies and five (5) years professional library experience. Demonstrated or potential administrative and coordinating ability. A second master's or doctoral degree in a relevant subject area, or ABD status in a relevant doctoral program. Reading competence in one (1) foreign language is desirable but not required. A minimum of five (5) additional years of professional library experience may be considered in substitution for the second master's degree or ABD status.

C. General Bases for Promotion – Faculty and Librarians

All decisions regarding promotion are based on teaching/librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. Candidates are expected to demonstrate accomplishments in all three categories; however, it should be noted that high quality teaching or librarianship is required for promotion at each rank. It is the responsibility of the department/program Promotion and Tenure Committee (PTC) to provide each candidate with a copy of the accepted Disciplinary Standards of the department/program and to discuss meaningfully the Disciplinary Standards with the candidate. It is the candidate's responsibility to present effectively her/his accomplishments as evidence for promotion.

Consistent accomplishment over time will be evaluated positively, while recognizing that a candidate's relative contributions to the campus community in terms of teaching/librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service normally will vary over time. Therefore, periods of relatively less activity in one area should be complemented by greater activity in the others, producing a consistently high level of accomplishment and balance overall.⁴

⁴ Faculty hired before 1974 can be considered for promotion primarily based on excellence in teaching and service.

Candidates should demonstrate a significant, positive influence on students (in particular), peers, and their profession in their teaching/librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. Because promotion recognizes progressive professional accomplishment, each rank requires a more significant level of accomplishment and scope of recognition.

D. Faculty

The following sections address teaching, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service separately. However, for many teacher–scholars at TCNJ, the activities and accomplishments in the three areas overlap and, as such, often are enhanced, for example when scholarly or creative activity can be connected to student learning. Candidates whose activities in the three areas are integrated are encouraged to highlight this aspect of their work in the application.

1. Teaching

The College is an exemplary liberal learning institution with the mission of offering a quality education to high achieving students in a residential setting where teaching is an essential priority. Faculty should aspire to be teachers of the first order. High caliber, effective teaching may be characterized by:

- ◆ subject mastery, currency, and ongoing growth in one's discipline;
- ◆ the creation of caring and respectful learning environments in which the contributions of students and faculty are valued and recognized;
- ◆ enthusiasm that arouses student interest, curiosity, and motivation;
- ◆ rapport with students;
- ◆ incorporation of one's scholarship into teaching, when appropriate, including the effective supervision of student research and the incorporation of students into one's scholarship, when appropriate;
- ◆ commitment to all levels of the curriculum, including First Seminars, liberal learning, introductory courses, and graduate courses, where appropriate;
- ◆ careful preparation and clear organization of lessons and pedagogical materials that enhance student learning;
- ◆ attention to student learning outcomes that help develop students as successful, ethical, and visionary leaders in a multicultural, highly technological, and increasingly global world;
- ◆ purposeful experimentation with one's pedagogy in ways that foster engaging educational environments that are characterized by academic freedom, creative expressions, critical thinking, intellectual inquiry, and community engagement;
- ◆ the creation and/or revision of courses and curricula in ways that foster a vibrant, intellectual community that is built around a shared commitment to scholarly inquiry;
- ◆ thoughtful mentorship and advising that contribute to students' cultural, social, and intellectual lives;
- ◆ respect for and fair treatment of students as individuals;
- ◆ pride in offering an individualized educational experience to every student;
- ◆ timeliness and professionalism in meeting classes and evaluating student work; and
- ◆ rigor and transparency in evaluating student work.

To help evaluate teaching effectiveness candidates must submit:

- (a) All student evaluations from all sections of all courses taught in the time period ranging from not less than three (3) years, but not more than five (5) years prior to the submission of the application.
- (b) Peer evaluations of their teaching. The format and content of the peer evaluations should conform to the result of the recommendations of the Faculty Senate's Standing Committee on Teaching Excellence as approved through the governance process and set forth in Appendix III.
- (c) External professional peer evaluations of their scholarly/creative/professional work written by individuals with established reputations in the candidate's field and not employed by/affiliated with TCNJ. The processes for selecting external reviewers, soliciting their participation, and guiding the format and content of their evaluations must conform to the requirements set forth in Appendix IV.⁵
- (d) Selected course and curricular materials and other items deemed relevant by the candidate in support of the teaching record. The materials should illustrate efforts and success in developing best practices in teaching; describe the approach to pedagogy and how it fits with College, liberal learning, and/or program goals; and show the rigor, comprehensiveness, and depth of assignments. Grade distributions should not be submitted as a part of these materials, as the College Promotions Committee may not use a candidate's grade distributions as part of its assessment of the candidate's promotability.

Promotion to Associate Professor requires evidence of continued improvement in teaching in response to feedback from peers and students, and a growing record of teaching excellence.*

Promotion to Professor requires evidence that the candidate has reached a consistent level of teaching excellence* and serves as an educational leader in the department or program.

(* The occasional course might be evaluated at less than an excellent level, for example when a new course is being developed. This should be explained in the application.)

2. Scholarly/Creative/Professional Activity

The best teachers remain devoted learners. TCNJ embraces the model of a professor as teacher-scholar and understands that a serious and continuing commitment to scholarship complements and enriches teaching of the first order; therefore, The College values the scholarly and creative enterprise. The College recognizes a range of scholarly modes including:

- ◆ The Scholarship of Discovery – the traditional research model in which new content knowledge is acquired;

⁵ It is expected that Appendix IV will be added to this Document after the external review process is studied by the campus community and formally approved through the governance process. Until Appendix IV is formally adopted, candidates have the option of seeking external reviews using the procedures set forth in the 1997 version of the TCNJ Promotions Document, or proceeding with an application for promotion under this Document without any external reviews.

- ◆ The Scholarship of Integration – the creation of new knowledge by synthesizing and making connections across disciplines or sub-disciplines;
- ◆ The Scholarship of Application – the bridging of the gap between theory and practice through both research and action;
- ◆ The Scholarship of Pedagogy – the discovery or an evaluative analysis of the ways students learn, and the identification and assessment of methods used to foster learning; and
- ◆ Artistic Expression – the expression of artistry through the visual, performing, or literary arts.

In keeping with the mission of The College, we also value scholarship that is uniquely suited to our institution, such as projects that involve TCNJ students in a scholarly manner or are connected to our role in the larger community.

Although scholarly/creative/professional activities take many forms, the expectation is that finished works will be submitted to an appropriate jury of peers for rigorous evaluation. The quality of work is defined by its significance in one's field of inquiry and necessarily requires such peer review to validate the work's significance.

Normally, this means that the finished works will be published in a respected venue such as a refereed journal or press, or presented in a juried show. This level of accomplishment is required and is the most important evidence for promotion within the scholarly/creative/professional activity area. Quality is more important than mere quantity, although candidates for promotion are expected to maintain their scholarly/creative/professional activity consistently, and demonstrate the ability to bring significant projects to fruition as defined by the standards of one's discipline. The applicant's entire body of scholarly/creative/professional work provides evidence for the pattern of continuing scholarship in support of promotion, but works finished since appointment at The College or since the last promotion are required for promotion and carry greater weight.

There may be periods when the level of scholarly activity is somewhat reduced (but not eliminated) due to a significant increase in teaching or service, such as serving as a department chair. In such cases the reduction in scholarship should not be counted against the candidate, but there should be evidence that the scholarly/creative/professional activity has been maintained to some degree and has promise for full resumption when the other activities return to normal levels.

Professional activities as a consultant or practitioner are considered scholarly when they involve the creation rather than application of knowledge and impact significantly on one's discipline. Examples include original research when consulting for a company, creating national standards for an accrediting organization, and designing curricula for national or regional use. Evidence includes but is not limited to written evaluations by peers or professional organizations or some other type of formal and rigorous assessment.

The standards that mark excellence in scholarly/creative/professional activity may differ significantly among disciplines and even sub-disciplines. It is not possible to define in this document what these standards are in every discipline; instead, the accepted Disciplinary Standards of the appropriate department or program should be consulted (and made available to every candidate for promotion). It is the responsibility of the departmental Promotion and Tenure Committee (or its equivalent) to consult, when necessary, with the Dean and Provost about reasonable expectations for a given discipline or sub-discipline, based on the Disciplinary Standards of the department or program. It is the responsibility of the candidate to make clear in the application that the expectations were met.

Promotion to Associate Professor requires a pattern of continuing achievement since initial appointment, with evidence of previous and continuing scholarly/creative/professional endeavors.

Promotion to Professor requires a sustained pattern of achievement since attaining the rank of Associate Professor, with evidence indicating the coherence and maturation of the scholarly/creative/professional record.

The following side-by-side comparison is only a guide to help differentiate between qualifications by rank. It includes some significant examples of scholarly/creative/professional activity in support of promotion, but should not be read as a comprehensive list of requirements; however, some discipline-appropriate form of finished, refereed publication or performed work is required. These particular items will apply to some candidates and not others, and there will be other accomplishments not listed here that candidates might include.

Associate Professor	Professor
Publications in selective peer-reviewed venues.	Additional publications in selective peer-reviewed venues.
Presentations at juried or peer-reviewed local, state, and regional conferences or professional organizations.	Invited presentations at juried or peer-reviewed regional, national, and international conferences or professional organizations.
Book manuscripts under contract for publication.	Published books whose quality is reflected in reviews, adoptions, and citations.
Writing grant proposals.	Writing and obtaining grants.
Consulting activities or other professional practice demonstrating recognition of one's scholarly/creative work at least at the local or state level.	Taking a leadership role in consulting activities or other professional practice, demonstrating recognition of one's scholarly/creative work at the regional, national, and/or international level.

3. Service

The College depends on faculty contributions to ensure that it achieves its educational mission through effective and efficient operations. The College's commitment to participatory governance and the needs of academic programs and units necessitate a spirit of service and citizenship. Faculty contributions to the good of the community are expected to increase concomitantly with the institution's commitment to the individual. This means that faculty will be expected to accept more significant service responsibilities at each higher rank. When a faculty member contributes exceptional long-term service, such as chairing a department or program for years, it is recognized that there may be a reduction in the quantity of scholarly/creative/professional activity (see previous section).

Promotion to Associate Professor requires service to the department/program, school, and/or The College contributing to the effective operation and growth of the institution; to the community (applying academic skills and experience to the solution of campus, local, national, or international problems); and/or to the profession (advancing one's academic profession through active participation in professional and scholarly organizations).

Promotion to Professor requires consistent service and leadership in the department/program, school, and The College, contributing significantly to the effective operation and growth of the institution; in the community (applying academic skills and experience to the solution of campus, local, national, or international problems); and/or profession (advancing one's academic profession through active participation in professional and scholarly organizations).

The following side-by-side comparison is only a guide to help differentiate between qualifications by rank. It includes some significant examples of service in support of promotion but should not be read as a comprehensive list of requirements. These particular items will apply to some candidates and not others, and there will be other accomplishments not listed here that candidates might include:

Associate Professor	Professor
Advising student organizations or clubs.	Chairing a department or program.
Participating actively in department/program, school, and/or college-wide committees, organizations, or task forces.	Holding elected office in or chairing department/program, school, and/or college-wide committees, organizations, or task forces.
Active participation in student programs.	Creating or significantly revising entire department/program curricula.
Active participating in on- or off-campus programs or workshops.	Taking a leadership role in on- or off-campus programs or workshops.
Active participation in charitable, civic, and cultural organizations related to the candidate's professional expertise.	Holding office in charitable, civic, and cultural organizations related to the candidate's professional expertise.
Acting as a resource person for educational organizations, government, business, or industry.	Consulting in a leadership role for educational organizations, government, business, or industry; serving on governing boards, chairing meetings.
Participating in appropriate professional organizations.	Holding office in appropriate professional organizations.

E. Librarians

The following sections address librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service separately. However, for many librarians at TCNJ the activities and accomplishments in the three areas overlap and as such often are enhanced, for example when scholarly or professional activity can be connected to student learning. Candidates whose activities in the three areas are integrated are encouraged to highlight this aspect of their work in the application

1. Librarianship

Library faculty should aspire to be librarians of the first order. High caliber, effective librarianship is characterized by:

- ◆ mastery, currency and ongoing growth in one's specialty;
- ◆ careful preparation and clear organization;
- ◆ fair and sensitive response to student needs, concerns, individual differences, and cultural backgrounds;
- ◆ purposeful experimentation in the practice of one's professional specialty;
- ◆ incorporation of one's scholarship into the practice of librarianship, where appropriate;
- ◆ incorporation of one's professional service into the practice of librarianship;
- ◆ timeliness and professionalism in carrying out professional responsibilities;
- ◆ consistency in developing, implementing, and/or updating services;
- ◆ respect and fair treatment of all library users as individuals; and
- ◆ an ability to successfully interact with and/or supervise staff at various levels.

Librarians perform in one or all of the following capacities: reference, information literacy, systems development, access services, collection development, collection management, information retrieval, and bibliographic control. Responsibilities of individual candidates will vary according to their positions; therefore, not every candidate will have accomplishments in all the areas described below. The following descriptions are not intended to be exhaustive or prescriptive, but rather to reflect the spirit behind the promotion process.

Examples of skills and characteristics that mark effective performance include:

- Providing library users with effective access to information.
- Being well informed about trends, practices, and changing technologies in the profession.
- Contributing to the initiation and development of new programs and policies and preparing information materials for other staff and library users.
- Establishing and maintaining good communication and working relationships with faculty, administration, and students.
- Working effectively with student groups, outside agencies and with the general public.
- Demonstrating adaptability and flexibility and showing an awareness of individual differences and a sensitivity to the various cultures and heritages within The College community.
- Participating in planning, initiating, and codifying or coordinating library operations and services.
- Assisting in training new colleagues.
- Assisting in coordinating the work of colleagues and supervising the work of support staff.

Promotion to Librarian II requires evidence that one has begun to grow in the mastery of one's specialty.

Promotion to Librarian I requires evidence of continuing growth and mastery in one's specialty.

2. Scholarly/Creative/Professional Activity

The best librarians remain devoted learners. TCNJ embraces the model of a librarian as librarian-scholar; therefore, The College values scholarly, creative, and professional activity. A serious and continuing commitment to scholarship complements and enriches librarianship of the first order. The College recognizes a range of scholarly modes including disciplinary research, applied research, pedagogical research, and artistic expression (see above). Although these modes take many forms, the expectation is that finished works will be submitted to an appropriate jury of peers for rigorous evaluation. Normally, this means that the finished works will be published in a respected venue such as a refereed journal or press or presented in a juried show. The quality of work is defined by its significance in one's field of inquiry and necessarily requires such peer review to validate the work's significance. In keeping with the mission of The College, we also value work that is uniquely suited to our institution, such as projects that involve TCNJ students in a scholarly manner or are connected to our role in the larger community.

Professional activities as a consultant or practitioner are considered scholarly when they involve the creation rather than application of knowledge and impact significantly on one's discipline. Examples include original research when consulting for a company, creating national standards for a professional organization, and creating authoritative records for national or regional use. Evidence includes but is not limited to written evaluations by peers or professional organizations.

Quality is more important than mere quantity, although candidates for promotion are expected to maintain their scholarly/creative/professional activity consistently, and demonstrate the ability to bring significant projects to fruition as defined by the standards of one's discipline. There may be periods when the level of activity is reduced (but not eliminated) due to a concomitant increase in librarianship or service, such as serving as a program coordinator. In such cases there should be evidence that the scholarly/creative/professional activity has been maintained to some degree and has promise for full resumption when the other activities return to normal.

The applicant's entire body of scholarly/creative/professional work is considered as evidence for promotion. The work accomplished during the period of employment at TCNJ is evidence of the continuing nature of the applicant's scholarly/creative/professional activity.

The standards that mark excellence in scholarly/creative/professional projects may differ markedly among disciplines and even sub-disciplines. It is not possible to define in this document what these standards are in every discipline. It is the responsibility of the departmental Promotion and Tenure Committee (or its equivalent) to consult, when necessary, with the Dean and Provost about reasonable expectations for a given discipline or sub-discipline, based on the Disciplinary Standards of the department or program. It is the responsibility of the candidate to make clear in the application that the expectations were met.

Promotion to Librarian II requires a record of achievement since initial appointment, with evidence of continuing scholarly/creative/professional endeavors.

Promotion to Librarian I requires continued achievement since attaining the rank of Librarian II, with evidence of previous and continuing scholarly/creative/professional endeavors.

The following side-by-side comparison is only a useful guide to help differentiate between qualifications by rank. It includes some significant examples of scholarly/creative/professional activity in support of promotion, but should not be read as a comprehensive list of requirements. These particular items will apply to some candidates and not others, and there will be other accomplishments not listed here that candidates might include as evidence of scholarly activity.

Librarian II	Librarian I
Publication in peer-reviewed venues.	Additional publications in peer-reviewed venues.
Presentations at juried or peer-reviewed local, state, and regional conferences or professional organizations.	Continuing presentations at juried or peer-reviewed regional, national, and international conferences or professional organizations.
	Book manuscripts under contract for publication.
Attendance at courses, seminars, and workshops related to one's academic discipline or the work of the library.	Coursework toward or completion of additional academic degrees. Attendance at courses, seminars, and workshops related to one's academic discipline or the work of the library.
	Writing grant proposals.
Consulting activities or other professional practice demonstrating recognition of one's scholarly/professional work at least at the local or state level.	Taking a leadership role in consulting activities or other professional practice, demonstrating recognition of one's scholarly/professional work at the regional, national, and/or international level.

3. Service

The College depends on librarian contributions to ensure that it achieves its educational mission through effective and efficient operations. The College's commitment to participatory governance and the needs of academic programs and units necessitate a spirit of service and citizenship. Librarian contributions to the good of The College and library professional community are expected to increase concomitantly with the institution's commitment to the individual. This means that librarians will be expected to accept more significant service responsibilities at each higher rank. When a librarian contributes exceptional long-term service, such as coordinating a library operation for years, it is recognized that there may be an acceptable reduction in the quantity of scholarly/creative/professional activity (see above).

Promotion to Librarian II requires evidence of contribution to the effective operations and growth of the library or The College. Active participation in the library profession outside The College is also expected.

Promotion to Librarian I requires continuing growth in service and leadership in the library and The College. Ongoing service to the profession, including leadership roles.

The following side-by-side comparison is only a useful guide to help differentiate between qualifications by rank. It includes some significant examples of service in support of promotion but should not be read as a comprehensive list of requirements. These particular items will apply to some candidates and not others, and there will be other accomplishments not listed here that candidates will include:

Librarian II	Librarian I
Maintaining active membership in library committees, organizations, or task forces.	Maintaining active membership in library or College committees, organizations, or task forces.
Active participation in student programs.	Creating or significantly revising departmental programs/services.
Active participating in on- or off-campus programs or workshops.	Taking a leadership role in on- or off-campus programs or workshops.
Active participation in appropriate professional organizations and associations.	Leadership in professional organization and association committees, task forces, etc.
Active participation in charitable, civic, and cultural organizations related to the candidate's professional expertise.	Holding office in charitable, civic, and cultural organizations related to the candidate's professional expertise.
	Acting as a resource person for educational organizations, government, business, or industry.
	Advising student organizations or clubs.

III. ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

A. The Candidate:

1. Verifies with the Office of Academic Affairs that s/he meets the minimum qualifications for the desired rank, before beginning the promotion process.
2. By February 15th, notifies the department/program of his or her tentative plan to apply for promotion in the next semester.
3. Arranges for peer observations of teaching after consultation with the departmental Promotion and Tenure Committee (PTC), during the relevant time frame prior to the application as set forth in Appendix III.
4. By September 1, signs a form provided by the Office of Academic Affairs as notice of intent to file for promotion
5. By September 15th, presents and explains a clear, complete, and compelling case for promotion, organizing and focusing the application in order to convey the information that is most relevant in the record of achievement (see Appendix I). The candidate needs to establish the exemplary nature of his or her record of achievement. The candidate may choose to have a conference with a member of the PTC to confirm the completeness of the application and may appear before the committee to amplify and explain documentation submitted with the application. If the candidate is re-applying for promotion, the candidate must include the report of the prior College Promotion Committee(s) and explain how the applicant has addressed whatever shortcomings were identified by the earlier CPC(s).

6. Coordinates with the chair of the department (or the chair of the PTC, if there is no department chair or the department chair is a candidate) to ensure that the materials from the department are added to the portfolio in a timely manner.
7. Indicates by signature that s/he has read the entire PTC recommendation and has been afforded an opportunity for comment and response. If the candidate chooses to file a response, it is due to the PTC by October 30.
8. By December 7, conveys all promotion materials from the Dean to the CPC, including 12 copies of the entire contents of the Documents Envelope (see below).
9. Responds to any written recommendations according to the procedures and timeline described below.

B. The Department/Program Promotion and Tenure Committee (PTC):

1. If a department/program elects members to its PTC, such elections must occur between February 16 and March 30. The names of the people who will serve on the PTC and the person who will chair the committee must be submitted to the relevant Dean no later than May 1.
2. Consults with the candidate and, when necessary, the Dean about reasonable expectations for scholarship/creative/professional activity in the candidate's discipline, based on the accepted Disciplinary Standards developed in each department or program. This consultation must occur in the first year of appointment and should then be revisited periodically, including in the spring semester (between March 30 and May 1) prior to the submission of an application for reappointment, tenure, or promotion.
3. Has at least one of its members observe the candidate's teaching. (Note: This should have occurred, at the latest, in the spring semester prior to the submission of the candidate's application).
4. Evaluates each applicant in terms of the Bases and Standards for Promotion, including strengths and weaknesses, with a careful, thorough, and thoughtful analysis. Recommends for promotion only those candidates who clearly warrant such promotion.
5. Completes the Department/Program Recommendation for Promotion (see Appendix II) indicating how the application materials demonstrate that the recommended candidates are eligible in terms of the Bases and Standards for Promotion. Only one recommendation will be forwarded for each candidate. All members of a PTC must sign the recommendation. By signing a recommendation, members of the PTC indicate their participation in the decision-making process and verify that the recommendation accurately reflects the decision of the PTC; signing does not necessarily indicate that person concurs with the ultimate recommendation.⁶ Candidates are to be informed in writing of the committee's decision by October 16.

⁶ Any PTC member who refuses to sign the committee's report/recommendation is expected to send a written explanation for his/her refusal to sign the appropriate Dean.

6. Provides feedback to all non-recommended candidates that, as set out in the Bases and Standards for Promotion, improvement is needed in one or more of the following: teaching/librarianship; scholarly/professional/creative activity; service. Note: The feedback provided should be given careful attention and special consideration in a future PTC's evaluation of a subsequent application for promotion.
7. Limits discussion to the candidate's application, supportive documents and evaluation materials as they apply to the Bases and Standards for Promotion found on pages 1-11 of this document. Committee members do not serve as advocates for any candidate.
8. Gives the candidate a copy of the recommendation for his or her records and forwards any response from the candidate as part of the candidate's application.
9. Forwards the application materials of all recommended candidates and of all non-recommended candidates who indicate that they wish to continue their application, along with the departmental recommendation for each of these candidates, to the Dean for consideration no later than November 3.

C. The Dean:

1. Forwards the names of PTC members and chairs from all departments/programs under the Dean's jurisdiction to Academic Affairs no later than September 1.
2. Takes the PTC's report into consideration and prepares a separate written statement for each recommended candidate and each non-recommended candidate wishing to continue. That recommendation will indicate how the application materials demonstrate that the candidate meets or does not meet the Bases and Standards for Promotion (see pages 1-11).
3. Transmits the Dean's recommendation to the candidate for review and response by November 20. The candidate may, within three (3) working days of receiving the recommendation, request a meeting with the Dean to discuss that recommendation. The discussion shall take place within three (3) working days of the request. Within three (3) working days of the discussion, the Dean notifies the candidate in writing of the final recommendation. If there is any response from the candidate, it must be in writing and becomes part of the application and is forwarded to the CPC.

D. The College Promotions Committee (CPC):

The committee evaluates each applicant in terms of the Bases and Standards for Promotion (see pages 1-11) and recommends promotion only for those candidates who clearly warrant such promotion. In its consideration of candidates, the committee:

1. Reviews and discusses all materials received from each candidate, assessing the quality of the documentation and considering the recommendations made by the PTC and the Dean.
2. Gives consideration to the evaluations of promotion applications made by PTCs and/or CPCs in the last three (3) years.

3. Restricts its discussions of candidates to the Bases and Standards for Promotion found in this document (pages 1-11), referring to the application materials, the PTC's and Dean's recommendations, and the candidate's response(s) only.⁷ None of its members acts as an advocate of a discipline, department, program, or school. Members should avoid any conversations about candidates outside of CPC meetings.
4. Provides candidates and/or their representatives an opportunity to appear before the committee to amplify and explain the documentation submitted with the application. A request to appear before the committee must be made in writing on or before the second Monday in December.
5. Concludes its deliberations, votes on each candidate, arrives at recommendations, and notifies in writing recommended and non-recommended candidates on or before January 17. The committee's feedback letter to non-recommended candidates must indicate that, as set out in the Bases and Standards for Promotion, improvement is needed in one or more of the following: teaching/librarianship; scholarly/creative/professional activity; service. Note: The feedback provided should be given careful attention and special consideration in a future CPC's evaluation of a subsequent application for promotion.
6. Allows the candidate to examine the committee's feedback letter and recommendation. Any comment or response to these from the candidate shall be forwarded to the President as part of the candidate's application.
7. Hears appeals on or before January 27. Candidates for promotion have five (5) business days after receipt of the committee's recommendation to submit an appeal. Information on the dates and procedures for making an appeal is included in the committee's letter of notification to the candidate. Compelling evidence must be submitted in order to warrant a change in the committee's recommendation. After hearing a presentation by the candidate, the committee will vote by secret ballot, with eight (8) affirmative votes needed to sustain an appeal. The Provost must be present for the hearing of appeals.
8. Reports to the President by February 1. Upon completion of the appeal process, the committee forwards to the President a list of candidates it recommends for promotion, the promotion materials of the candidates, and its recommendation for each. This recommendation must indicate how the candidate meets the Bases and Standards for Promotion (pages 1-11). The committee's final recommendations shall be made known to all applicants within two (2) working days after submission to the President.
9. Returns all promotion materials to the candidate at the conclusion of the process.

E. The Provost:

1. Serves ex officio as a non-voting member of the CPC and must be present for all evaluation meetings and for the hearing of appeals by the CPC.

⁷ Because grade distributions are not a part of the Bases and Standards for Promotion (see page 4), the CPC is not to consider a candidate's grade distributions during its deliberations of a candidate's application for promotion.

2. Prepares a written statement indicating concurrence or areas of non-concurrence with the CPC's recommendations once appeals to the CPC have been completed and the committee's final recommendations have been made. In instances of non-concurrence, the Provost must indicate how the application materials demonstrate that the candidate meets or does not meet the Bases and Standards for Promotion (pages 1-11).
3. Transmits the Provost's report to the candidate, by Feb. 3, for review and response. Should the Provost make a recommendation contrary to that made by the CPC, the candidate may request a meeting with the Provost. The request must be made within two (2) working days of receiving the recommendation, and the discussion must take place within two (2) working days of receiving the request. Within two (2) working days of the discussion, the Provost notifies the candidate in writing of the final recommendation.
4. Forwards to the President the Provost's report and any response by the candidate to the Provost's final recommendation by February 15.

F. The President:

1. Within two (2) working days after receiving the final recommendations of the CPC, the President may choose to meet with the committee concerning its recommendations.
2. Should the President make a recommendation inconsistent with that of the CPC and/or Provost, s/he provides the committee and the candidate with the reasons for that action.
3. A candidate who has been recommended by the CPC and/or Provost and not recommended by the President may request and will be granted a meeting with the President to discuss the reasons for non-concurrence within two (2) days of such a request. Recommendations of the President to the Board of Trustees and the decisions of the Board shall be delivered in writing to all candidates no later than March 15, unless changed by local agreement between The College and the Union.

IV. PROCEDURES FOR APPLYING FOR PROMOTION

A. Timeline (If the specified date is a non-work day, the deadline will be moved forward to the next work day.)

Near the beginning of a candidate's appointment at TCNJ, the PTC is responsible for discussing with the candidate the expectations for scholarly/creative/professional activity based on the Disciplinary Standards developed for each department/program, extending from reappointment through tenure and promotion. In the spring semester preceding the application for promotion, the PTC should again review these expectations with the candidate.

February 15 Each candidate tentatively intending to apply for promotion notifies the department/program Promotion and Tenure Committee (PTC) for the purpose of reviewing the Disciplinary Standards and insuring that a member of the PTC has adequate time to peer-review the applicant's teaching.

March 30 PTCs must be elected by March 30.

- September 1 Each candidate signs a form provided by the Office of Academic Affairs as notice of intent to file for promotion. Certification of eligibility for promotion and the official Documents Envelope are provided by the Office of Academic Affairs to the candidate before October 2. This includes information indicating the date an applicant commenced service at The College, total number of years of service, and the number of years in present academic rank. It also certifies that a candidate has met the minimum educational requirements (see pages 1-2) through a terminal degree or having established equivalency or that this requirement is waived under the grandfather clause. Any discrepancies with respect to the information supplied must be resolved prior to the start of the promotion process.
- September 1 Deans notify Academic Affairs of the names of all PTC members and chairs under the Dean's jurisdiction.
- September 15 The candidate submits application and supporting materials to the PTC, including the official Documents Envelope containing
- a. Certification of credentials and service.
 - b. Candidate's application, following the format of the Standard Application for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion (see Appendix I).
 - c. Candidate's essay.
 - d. External review reports.
- The following items are added to the Documents Envelope at the appropriate stage:
- e. PTC's recommendation and candidate's written response if applicable (added by PTC).
 - f. Dean's recommendation and candidate's written response if applicable (added by Dean).
- The candidate should submit supporting documents in hard cover binders (see Standard Application for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion) with tables of contents and identifying tabs marking sections and subsections. The candidate is responsible for identifying all supporting material with her or his name, clearly labeling and organizing the material, and referring to this material in the application itself.
- October 16 Each candidate is informed in writing of the decision of the PTC. Before October 16, each candidate shall have the opportunity to appear before the committee to amplify and explain the documentation.
- October 30 Each candidate shall have an opportunity to examine the PTC's recommendation in its entirety. The candidate indicates by signature that he or she has read the entire contents and has been afforded an opportunity for comment and response. Such written response is due by October 30 and is forwarded to the College Promotions Committee (CPC) as part of the application.
- October 30 A non-recommended candidate may choose to continue an application. To do so, she or he must notify the chair of the CPC in writing (with copies to the Dean and the chair of the PTC) no later than October 30.

- November 3 PTC forwards recommendation and candidates' documentation materials to the appropriate Dean.
- November 20 The Dean's recommendation is transmitted to the candidate by November 20. The candidate may, within three (3) working days of receiving the recommendation, request a meeting with the Dean to discuss that recommendation. The discussion must take place within three (3) working days of the request. Within three (3) working days of the discussion, the Dean must notify the candidate in writing of the final recommendation. If there is any response from the candidate, it must be in writing within three (3) working days of receiving the final recommendation and shall become a part of the application and forwarded to the CPC.
- December 7 Candidate conveys all promotion materials from the Dean to the CPC, including 12 copies of the entire contents of the Documents Envelope (see above).
- 2nd Monday in December Each candidate and/or representative shall have the opportunity to appear before the CPC to amplify and explain the documentation submitted with the application. A request to appear before the CPC must be made in writing on or before the second Monday in December.
- January 17 Each candidate receives written notification of the recommendation of the CPC by January 17. For non-recommended candidates this letter includes explanation of the CPC's decision.
- January 22 Candidates have five (5) days after receipt of the committee's recommendation to submit an appeal.
- January 27 The CPC must hear and decide a candidate's appeal within five (5) days of receiving it. The candidate or candidate's designee may present the appeal. Information on the dates and procedures for making an appeal is included in the committee's letter of notification to the candidate. Compelling evidence must be submitted in order to warrant a change in the committee's recommendation.
- February 1 A list of candidates recommended for promotion is forwarded from the CPC to the President.
- February 3 The Provost transmits to the candidate a written statement of concurrence or non-concurrence with the CPC. Should the Provost, following the conclusion of the appeals process, make a promotion recommendation contrary to that made by the CPC, the candidate may request a meeting with the Provost. The request must be made within two (2) working days of receiving the recommendation, and the discussion takes place within two (2) working days of receiving the request. Within two (2) working days of the discussion, the Provost notifies the candidate in writing of the final recommendation. If there is any response from the candidate, it must be in writing within two (2) working days of receiving the final recommendation and is forwarded to the President along with the Provost's final recommendation.
- February 15 The Provost transmits to the President a written statement of concurrence or non-concurrence with the CPC, along with any response from the candidate.

February 17 The President transmits to the candidate a written statement of concurrence or non-concurrence with the CPC and/or the Provost. Should the President make a promotion recommendation contrary to that made by the CPC and/or the Provost, the candidate may request a meeting with the President to discuss the reasons for nonconcurrence. The request must be made within two (2) working days of receiving the recommendation, and the discussion takes place within two (2) working days of receiving the request.

One week prior to Feb/March BOT meeting President transmits recommendations for Promotion to the Board of Trustees.

March 15 Recommendations of the President to the Board of Trustees and decisions of the Board are delivered in writing to all candidates.

B. Withdrawing the Application

A candidate may, at any time in the process, withdraw the application for promotion without prejudice. An application is withdrawn by submitting a letter to the chair of the PTC or CPC, depending upon the stage of the application process.

C. Grievances

Claims of violation of procedures must be reported to the President of The College by the individual grievant 14 days from the date on which such claimed violation took place or 14 days from the date on which the individual grievant should have reasonably known of its occurrence. In the event of failure to report the occurrence within such 14 day period, the matter may not be raised in any later grievance contesting the validity of the committee's recommendation or any action based thereon (Article VII, G.5, State-Union Agreement).

Within seven (7) calendar days of the final recommendation of the CPC to the President, or by February 8, a candidate may initiate a grievance through the Union based on the allegation that, after timely filing of his or her application, the promotional procedure was violated or that there was breach of the rights of the candidate concerning discrimination or academic freedom. Such a claim, if sustained, will result in a reprocessing of the application on an expedited basis. A final recommendation in such case shall be made to the President no later than March 1 of the year in question (State-Union Agreement, XIV, G)

VI. DEPARTMENT/PROGRAM PROMOTION AND TENURE COMMITTEE (PTC)⁸

A. Membership/Eligibility

1. Minimum Number

A department of ten (10) or fewer members must have at least three (3) members on its Promotion and Tenure Committee (PTC); a department of more than ten (10) members must have at least five (5) members. In cases where the department chair does not vote, he or she may serve ex officio but is not counted among the number of individuals making up the committee.

2. Eligibility of Members

PTC members must be tenured with the exception of the department chair/program director who, even if untenured, may, at the choice of the department/program, serve ex officio with vote. Candidates for promotion are eligible for the PTC, but must absent themselves from all promotion discussions.

3. Outside Members

A department/program with insufficient members available to serve on its committee may elect members of other departments/programs who meet eligibility requirements. Each department/program shall file with the appropriate Dean the names of up to three (3) departments/programs representing related or cognate disciplines from which it may elect members. A department/program with insufficient membership on its committee will poll the members of the identified departments/programs to determine who is interested in serving. These names shall be placed on a departmental/programmatic ballot, and a sufficient number shall be elected to bring the number on the committee to the required minimum.

4. Service on Multiple Committees

- a. A faculty member or librarian may serve on the PTC of different departments/programs.
- b. Faculty or librarians serving on a PTC who also serve on the College Promotions Committee (CPC) should recuse themselves from the promotions process within their own departments/programs.

5. Joint-Appointments

A PTC consisting of members of all departments or programs involved will be formed for each reappointment, tenure, or promotion case involving a joint-appointment. If the department(s) or program(s) with which the candidate is affiliated have ten (10) or fewer members between them, they must elect a PTC of at least three (3) members, with one (1) member drawn from each of the two affiliated department(s) or program(s). Assuming that there are a sufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the candidate shall have the right to designate from which of the affiliated department(s) or program(s) the third member shall be elected. If there are an insufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the third member of the PTC must be drawn from whichever department or program has a tenured faculty member who is able to serve on the PTC. If neither department or program has a sufficient number of tenured faculty, then the third member of the PTC must be drawn from a related cognate discipline suggested by the candidate and approved by the Office of Academic Affairs.

If the department(s) or program(s) with which the candidate is affiliated have more than ten (10) members between them, they must elect at least five (5) members to the PTC, with two (2) members drawn from each of the two affiliated department(s) or program(s). Assuming that there are a sufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the candidate shall have the right to designate from which of the affiliated department(s) or program(s) the fifth member shall be elected. If there are an insufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the fifth member of the PTC must be drawn from whichever department or program has a tenured faculty member who is able to serve on the PTC. If neither department or program has a sufficient number of tenured faculty, then the fifth member of the PTC must be drawn from a related cognate discipline suggested by the candidate and approved by the Office of Academic Affairs.

Like other PTCs, members of joint-appointment PTCs must be tenured with the exception of a department chair or program director who, even if untenured, may, at the choice of the department, serve ex officio with vote. Candidates for promotion are eligible for the PTC, but must absent themselves from all promotion discussions. In the event that a member must absent himself/herself, then a replacement PTC member must be added to the committee in accordance with the procedures outlined in the previous two paragraphs.

B. Selection of Committee Members

1. The department may, by simple majority vote, designate committee membership to be comprised of all tenured faculty members in the department or;
2. Where a department chooses to elect its members, it will develop election procedures and conduct elections. Elections will be conducted no later than March 30.
3. By September 1, the department will file with Academic Affairs (through the appropriate Dean) the names of its PTC members and chair.
4. All PTC selection procedures will be filed with the Office of Academic Affairs (through the appropriate Dean). Prior to implementation, these will be reviewed jointly by the Union and The College to assure fairness and equity. Once reviewed, departmental selection procedures will be made public.

VII. COLLEGE PROMOTIONS COMMITTEE (CPC)

A. Membership/Eligibility

1. No candidate for promotion can be a member of the College Promotions Committee (CPC).
2. Members must be tenured faculty and librarians who have reached the rank of Associate Professor, Professor, Librarians II, or I.
3. Faculty or librarians serving on a PTC who also serve on the College Promotions Committee (CPC) should recuse themselves for the promotions process within their own departments/programs.⁹
4. Membership by school/disciplinary category:
 - a. In principle, the CPC should be composed of twelve (12) faculty members and librarians drawn from a cross-section of disciplines in all schools and different departments within schools. Thus, an ideally composed CPC might look as follows:

Three (3) from the School of Culture and Society, each from different departments/programs¹⁰
Two (2) from the School of Science, each from different departments/programs
Two (2) from the School of Education, each from different departments/programs
One (1) from the School of Art, Media, and Music
One (1) from the School of Business
One (1) from the School of Engineering
One (1) from the School of Nursing, Health & Exercise Science
One (1) from the Library

- b. It may not always be possible to assemble a CPC comprised of twelve (12) people drawn from different departments/programs in each and every school in the proportions set forth in the previous section. It is more important to have a full, twelve (12)-member committee than it is to have representation from every school. So, in the event that the distribution set forth in the previous section is not possible in any given year, faculty members from other Schools of similar classification may be substituted for the School lacking representation. In filling such a vacancy, a proportional balance on the CPC should be maintained such that six (6) members are drawn from different departments or programs in the arts and sciences (i.e., Culture and Society, Science, and Art, Media, and Music), and six (6) members be drawn from departments or programs in professional schools (i.e., Education; Business; Engineering; Nursing, Health, and Exercise Science; and the Library).

⁹ Previously, members of a departmental PTC could not serve on the College Promotions Committee. This was changed to allow faculty members to serve on both; however, if they do so, they must recuse themselves from the promotions process in their departments. This change allows programs or departments to have tenured members participate in reappointment and tenure decisions, rather than be disqualified from such participation due to service on the CPC.

¹⁰ If possible, at least one (1) of the three (3) representatives from the School of Culture and Society should be from a social science department or program, and at least one (1) should be from a department or program in the humanities.

5. No two members from schools with multiple representation can be from the same department.
6. No one may serve more often than four (4) years in a nine (9)-year period.
7. When others are willing to serve, no single department may represent its school for more than two (2) consecutive terms.
8. The Union appoints an observer.
9. The Provost for Academic Affairs serves as an ex officio participating member without vote.

B. Term of Service

Except for the completion of another person's uncompleted term, the term of service is three (3) years.

C. Nomination and Elections Procedures

1. College Promotions Committee Election Committee

The CPC Election Committee consists of two (2) representatives from the Union and two (2) from The College administration. This committee's role is to fill vacancies on the College Promotions Committee by: issuing the call for nominations; overseeing the preparation of ballots; and establishing election rules and overseeing the conduct of elections.

2. Nominations

The call for nominations (including self-nominations) to the College Promotions Committee is be made on or before the last Monday in January. All nominations must be submitted on the appropriate forms to the College Promotions Committee Election Committee in care of the Office of Academic Affairs by 4:30 p.m. on the second Monday in February.

3. Ballot Preparation

Voting is by school (or the library). The Office of Academic Affairs prepares the ballots for each school (or the library) in which there is a vacancy and distributes them by 4:30 p.m. on the first Monday in March.

4. Conduct of Elections

- a. Ballots are to be sealed in a blank envelope provided with that ballot and returned to the College Promotions Committee Election Committee in care of the Office of Academic Affairs by the second Monday in March.
- b. Ballots are tallied by the College Promotions Committee Election Committee, and the person receiving a majority vote in a school or disciplinary category is elected.

- c. Where no one receives a majority of the votes, a runoff election is held between the top two (2) nominees in the category. The Office of Academic Affairs prepares a runoff ballot to be delivered to faculty by 4:30 p.m. on the fourth Monday in March and returned by 4:30 p.m. on the first Monday in April. Individuals receiving a majority of votes within a category are elected.
- d. The College Promotions Committee Election Committee announces election results by the second Monday in April.

D. Operating Procedures

1. Committee membership begins on September 1 of each academic year.
2. The chairperson of the previous year (even if his/her term on the CPC has expired), calls the first meeting of the committee no later than September 15 of the following year for the purposes of electing a new chair who will then represent the CPC at meetings of the Committee on Faculty Affairs.
3. At the first meeting, a representative from Academic Affairs and/or Human Resources who is designated to review diversity and equity issues shall give an overview of affirmative action concerns and alert the committee to affirmative action issues as they relate to the promotions process. The College's diversity and equity designee may be asked, or may choose, to sit with the committee during its discussion and review of candidates. He/she will also review all decisions of the CPC before candidates are notified.
4. The chairperson is a regular faculty member of the committee elected by a majority of the current committee members at the first meeting of the academic year.
5. All CPC members read this Promotion document before beginning application review.

E. Voting Procedures

1. All candidates for one rank are discussed and voted upon before discussion and voting for another rank take place.
2. Candidates within each rank are discussed in alphabetical order. Discussion may be terminated by a majority vote of the committee.
3. After thorough discussion of each candidate, committee members will vote "yes" or "no" by secret ballot, with the results of each ballot not announced until all candidates have been voted upon.
4. Candidates receiving eight (8) out of twelve (12) votes are recommended for promotion.
5. Candidates receiving seven (7) positive votes can be recalled once by a committee member. After a full discussion, a recall vote is held for these candidates, and those receiving eight (8) or more votes are recommended for promotion.

6. Should there be fewer than twelve (12) voting members of the College Promotions Committee at any time, the promotion process will continue and:
 - a. A number equaling 66% of the actual committee membership will be sufficient for a recommendation for promotion; and
 - b. A number equaling 66% minus one of the actual committee membership will be sufficient for a candidate to be recalled once.

THE APPLICATION PROCESS FOR REAPPOINTMENT AND TENURE

I. OVERVIEW

The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) affirms that a community of learners and scholars is built around high expectations in which all members use their unique talents to make The College a better place. The process of reappointment and tenure at TCNJ functions within this context. It recognizes and supports the professional development of the individual faculty member even as it ensures that the faculty of The College as a whole is characterized by exemplary achievement in the areas of teaching or librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service.

Faculty work is reviewed in the first through fourth years. Typically the first and third year reviews are reviews only and do not require a reappointment decision. The second year review is used as a basis for a decision on reappointment to the fourth and fifth years. In some cases a reappointment may be to the fourth year only, in which case the third year review requires a separate reappointment decision for the fifth year. The fourth year review is the basis for reappointment to the sixth year with tenure.

II. BASES AND STANDARDS FOR EVALUATION FOR REAPPOINTMENT AND TENURE

A. Teaching or Librarianship

The College is an exemplary liberal learning institution with the mission of offering a quality education to high achieving students in a residential setting where teaching is an essential priority. Teaching faculty should aspire to be teachers of the first order. High caliber, effective teaching may be characterized by:

- ◆ subject mastery, currency, and ongoing growth in one's discipline;
- ◆ the creation of caring and respectful learning environments in which the contributions of students and faculty are valued and recognized;
- ◆ enthusiasm that arouses student interest, curiosity, and motivation;
- ◆ rapport with students;
- ◆ incorporation of one's scholarship into teaching, when appropriate, including the effective supervision of student research and the incorporation of students into one's scholarship, when appropriate;
- ◆ commitment to all levels of the curriculum, including First Seminars, liberal learning, introductory courses, and graduate courses, where appropriate;
- ◆ careful preparation and clear organization of lessons and pedagogical materials that enhance student learning;
- ◆ attention to student learning outcomes that help develop students as successful, ethical, and visionary leaders in a multicultural, highly technological, and increasingly global world;
- ◆ purposeful experimentation with one's pedagogy in ways that foster engaging educational environments that are characterized by academic freedom, creative expressions, critical thinking, intellectual inquiry, and community engagement;
- ◆ the creation and/or revision of courses and curricula in ways that foster a vibrant, intellectual community that is built around a shared commitment to scholarly inquiry;
- ◆ thoughtful mentorship and advising that contribute to students' cultural, social, and intellectual lives;
- ◆ respect for and fair treatment of students as individuals;

- ◆ pride in offering an individualized educational experience to every student;
- ◆ timeliness and professionalism in meeting classes and evaluating student work; and
- ◆ rigor and transparency in evaluating student work.

Likewise, library faculty should aspire to be librarians of the first order. High caliber, effective librarianship is characterized by:

- ◆ mastery, currency and ongoing growth in one's specialty;
- ◆ careful preparation and clear organization;
- ◆ fair and sensitive response to student needs, concerns, individual differences, and cultural backgrounds;
- ◆ purposeful experimentation in the practice of one's professional specialty;
- ◆ incorporation of one's scholarship into the practice of librarianship, where appropriate;
- ◆ incorporation of one's professional service into the practice of librarianship;
- ◆ timeliness and professionalism in carrying out professional responsibilities;
- ◆ consistency in developing, implementing, and/or updating services;
- ◆ respect and fair treatment of all library users as individuals; and
- ◆ an ability to successfully interact with and/or supervise staff at various levels.

Throughout the probationary period candidates should be showing steady progress toward mastery in teaching or librarianship. By the time of the tenure decision there should be strong evidence of accomplishment as described above and clear promise for further improvement.

B. Scholarly/Creative/Professional Activity

The best teachers remain devoted learners. TCNJ embraces the model of a professor or librarian as teacher-scholar or librarian-scholar; therefore, The College values the scholarly and creative enterprise. A serious and continuing commitment to scholarly/creative/professional activity complements and enriches teaching of the first order. The College recognizes a range of scholarly projects including disciplinary research, applied research, pedagogical research, artistic expression and in areas of liberal learning. Although these projects take many forms, the expectation is that finished works will be submitted to an appropriate jury of peers for rigorous evaluation.

Normally, this means that the finished works will be published in a respected outlet such as a refereed journal or press, or presented in a juried show. The quality of work is defined by its significance in one's field of inquiry and necessarily requires an evaluation committee to exercise its professional judgment. Quality is more important than mere quantity, although candidates for reappointment and tenure are expected to demonstrate the development of an ongoing and coherent record of scholarly/creative/professional activity including the ability to bring significant projects to fruition as defined by the standards of one's discipline.

Publications, creative work, and grant writing are considered as evidence for reappointment and tenure if they have been produced during the applicant's period as a member of the faculty at TCNJ. (All published work should be included in the materials presented during the evaluation process, but candidates should make clear which work has been completed subsequent to appointment at The College.)

Professional activities as a consultant or practitioner are considered scholarly when they involve the creation rather than application of knowledge and impact significantly on one's discipline. Examples include original research when consulting for a company, creating national standards for an accrediting organization, designing curricula for national or regional use. Evidence includes but is not limited to written evaluations by peers or professional organizations.

Throughout the probationary period candidates should show steady progress toward a productive and coherent program of scholarship or creativity. By the time of the tenure decision there should be a record of finished work conducted while at TCNJ and clear promise of continuing scholarship.

The standards that mark excellence in scholarly/creative/professional activity may differ significantly among disciplines and even sub-disciplines. It is not possible to define in this document what these standards are in every discipline; instead, the accepted Disciplinary Standards of the appropriate department or program should be consulted (and made available to every candidate for promotion). It is the responsibility of the departmental Promotion and Tenure Committee (or its equivalent) to consult, when necessary, with the Dean and Provost about reasonable expectations for a given discipline or sub-discipline, based on the Disciplinary Standards of the department or program. This should occur during the spring semester of the candidate's first year, and should include expectations for reappointment, tenure, and promotion to Associate Professor, Professor, Librarian II or I. It is the responsibility of the candidate to make clear in the application that these expectations were met.

C. Service

The College also depends on faculty contributions to ensure that it achieves its educational mission through effective and efficient operations. The College's commitment to participatory governance and the needs of academic Programs and units necessitate a spirit of service and citizenship. Faculty contributions to the good of the community are expected to increase concomitantly with the institution's commitment to the individual. Normally, this means that faculty will be expected to accept more significant service responsibilities once they have earned tenure. Prior to tenure, faculty should shoulder an equitable portion of the responsibilities in their department or school and may, depending on their interests and other obligations, also choose to become involved in other campus opportunities and events.

III. ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

A. The Candidate

The College expects exemplary achievement in the areas of teaching or librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. The College strives to hire faculty who will be successful in the evaluation process and will continue to develop professionally. It is the candidate's responsibility to present and explain the case for reappointment and tenure. The application materials should be organized and focused in order to convey the information that is most relevant in the record of achievement. The candidate needs to establish the exemplary nature of his or her record of achievement. In preparing his or her materials, the candidate also needs to coordinate with the chair of the department (or the chair of the PTC if there is no department chair or the department chair is a candidate) to ensure that the materials from the PTC are added to the portfolio in a timely manner.

B. The Department/Program

Departments (and programs) must strive to appoint faculty who will contribute directly to The College's mission of offering a quality educational experience to high achieving students in a residential setting. Departments must share The College's commitment to exemplary achievement in the areas of teaching or librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. Departments have a special responsibility to encourage and guide untenured faculty throughout their probationary period and to assist in their professional development specifically through an articulation of expectations and standards, mentoring and performance assessment.

To this end, it is the department's responsibility to:

- ◆ Inform new faculty about the expectations for performance. The standards that mark excellence in scholarly/creative/professional activity may differ significantly among disciplines and even sub-disciplines. It is not possible to define in this document what these standards are in every discipline; instead, the accepted Disciplinary Standards of the appropriate department or program should be consulted (and made available to every candidate for promotion). It is the responsibility of the PTC (or its equivalent) to consult when necessary with the Dean and Provost about reasonable expectations for a given discipline or sub-discipline, based on the Disciplinary Standards of the department or program. And, ultimately, it is the responsibility of the PTC to make clear to each candidate what these reasonable expectations are.
- ◆ Discuss with new faculty progress toward these performance expectations.
 - In probationary years one (1) and three (3), this discussion will normally result in a letter summarizing the feedback and advice from the PTC to the candidate with a copy sent to the Dean;
 - In probationary years two (2) and four (4), this discussion will result in an evaluation report from the PTC to the Dean;
- ◆ Establish an active program of systematic support (helpful mentoring related to teaching or librarianship; scholarly/creative/professional activity; department/program/school service; and application for external support). The mentoring program should be explained in a document that is given to each candidate upon appointment.
- ◆ Prior to application process, implement The College's procedures for collecting and analyzing student evaluations of teaching.
- ◆ Observe and evaluate annually the teaching of new faculty. The format and content of the peer evaluations should conform to the result of the recommendations of the Faculty Senate's Standing Committee on Teaching Excellence as approved through the governance process and as set forth in Appendix III.
- ◆ Read and evaluate carefully the candidate's Standard Application for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion (see Appendix I), the Professional Development Essay, and the supporting materials.
- ◆ Prepare a constructive evaluation report that characterizes and assesses:
 - the quality of the candidate's teaching and student mentoring, including an analysis of student and peer evaluations, teaching materials, curricular and course development (for librarians, a comparable analysis of relevant materials);

- the quality and quantity of the candidate's scholarship, with an indication that the expectations were appropriate and met, and with special attention to its significance in its particular field and sub-field, and the candidate's contribution to the health and vitality of the department/program as well as the campus community; and
- efforts made by the department/program to mentor the candidate.

C. The Dean

The Dean is responsible for working with departments to fulfill their obligations in an exemplary manner. The Dean is responsible for reviewing the departmental evaluation materials (letters, reports, etc.). The Dean is also responsible for reviewing departmental processes and procedures to ensure that they function both to assist candidates in their professional development and to advance The College's mission through the process of reappointment and tenure. The Dean considers institutional and school needs as well as departmental needs. For candidates undergoing the full review process (i.e., review beyond the level of the Dean), the Dean issues an independent recommendation to the Provost.

D. The Provost

The Provost is responsible for reviewing the complete dossier for candidates undergoing the full review process (i.e., review beyond the level of the Dean), including the application and all supporting materials, the PTC recommendation, the Dean's recommendation, and any responses of the candidate to the PTC or Dean. The Provost then makes an independent recommendation to the President and the Board of Trustees.

E. The President

The President is responsible for making a recommendation to the Board of Trustees.

IV. PROCEDURES AND TIMELINE FOR APPLYING FOR REAPPOINTMENT

NOTE: When a given date falls on non-work day, the deadline is moved to the next work day.

A. In the First Year

Near the beginning of a candidate's appointment at TCNJ the PTC is responsible for discussing with the candidate the expectations for scholarly/creative/professional activity based on the Disciplinary Standards developed for each department/program, extending from reappointment through tenure and promotion.

Faculty are hired with an initial three (3)-year (3) appointment, so the review during the first year is not the basis for any decision about reappointment; rather it is an opportunity for constructive feedback.

1. By May 15. The candidate submits to the department/program Promotion and Tenure Committee (PTC) the Standard Application for Reappointment. The application form organizes the candidate's record of achievement in the general format of a curriculum vita. Candidates do not need to include all of the supporting materials, although they should submit any supporting materials that they want to review with the PTC (e.g. reprints or pre-prints of scholarly articles, or the syllabus and course materials for a new course). They should include fall and spring student evaluations as well as peer teaching evaluations.

2. By May 25. The documents submitted serve as the basis for a serious conversation between the candidate and the committee regarding progress toward reappointment and tenure. The purpose of this face-to-face conversation is to encourage the candidate in his or her professional development, to offer honest feedback and constructive advice, and to provide structure to the department's/program's responsibility to mentor its untenured faculty members.

This conversation is then summarized in the form of a letter to the candidate from the PTC. Chairs should note that the discussion should be a meaningful one, and that the letter – about one (1) to two (2) pages – should not be a repeat of the application, but rather, it should truly characterize the conversation, and address both strengths and weaknesses of the application. This letter shall include the phrase, "by signing this letter, I agree that its contents summarize the discussion between the PTC and the candidate" and should be signed by all members of the PTC and the candidate. By signing the letter, member of the PTC indicate their participation in the conversation and verify that the letter accurately summarizes the conversation between the candidate and the PTC; signing does not necessarily indicate that person concurs with all of the points raised in the letter.¹¹

3. By May 29. The candidate has the right to respond formally to this letter. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application. The Dean is also sent a copy of all correspondence including the standard application.
4. By June 15. The Dean reviews the PTC letter and standard application. Should the Dean have concerns about the content of the letter or its clarity, the Dean may elect to meet with the PTC or the candidate for additional conversation. The Dean issues a written acknowledgment to the candidate and the PTC, with a copy to the Provost.

B. In the Second Year

NOTE: In addition to candidates in their second year, the process below is used by those candidates in their third year whose second year review resulted in appointment only for the fourth year. In such cases, this comprehensive review can result in a recommendation for an additional appointment for the fifth year (to include a comprehensive review for reappointment to the sixth year with tenure during the fourth year) or it can result in a recommendation to terminate the appointment following a fourth (and final) year.

1. By April 1. The candidate may apply for reappointment to a fourth and fifth year by submitting a dossier consisting of the updated Standard Application for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion, the Professional Development Essay, and supporting materials. The essay allows the candidate to interpret and explain the significance of the record as presented in the application. It enables the candidate to reflect deliberately on his or her professional development in the areas of teaching or librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. It points to future goals and aspirations. An effective presentation is clear, concise, accurate, and balanced. A typical essay may range from four (4) to eight (8) pages.

2. By April 15. The documents submitted serve as the basis for a renewed conversation between the candidate and the PTC regarding progress toward reappointment and tenure. This conversation should be both serious and constructive.

This conversation results in an evaluation report to the Dean from the PTC that summarizes the candidate's progress toward reappointment and tenure. This report is written by and voted on by the appropriate members of the department/program. All members of a PTC must sign the recommendation. By signing a recommendation, members of the PTC indicate their participation in the decision-making process and verify that the recommendation accurately reflects the decision of the PTC; signing does not necessarily indicate that person concurs with the ultimate recommendation.¹²

The recommendation is then reviewed by the candidate. If the report is generally positive, it should include a recommendation for appointment to the fourth and fifth year. If the report identifies areas of significant concern, it may instead result in a recommendation for appointment to the fourth year with an additional comprehensive review (for reappointment to the fifth year) to occur at the end of the third year. If the report is substantially negative, it may include a recommendation to terminate the appointment following a third (and final) year.

3. By April 19. The candidate has the right to respond formally to this evaluation report. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application.

PTC submits evaluation report to the Dean; this report will include the dossier and the PTC's recommendation as well as the candidate's response if any.

4. By May 15. The Dean reviews this complete dossier including the PTC report and meets with the chair of the PTC and chair of the department (where applicable). The Dean also has the option to meet with the candidate.

The Dean writes an independent evaluation report and recommendation to the Provost. Before they are forwarded to the Provost, copies are sent to the candidate and the PTC.

5. By May 19. The candidate has the right to respond formally to the Dean's evaluation report. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application.

Dean submits recommendation and dossier to the Provost.

6. By June 11. The Provost reviews the complete dossier, including the evaluation reports from the PTC and the Dean, and prepares a recommendation concerning reappointment for the President and the Board of Trustees. The Provost may meet with the candidate, PTC, or Dean as needed in preparing this recommendation.

¹² Any PTC member who refuses to sign the committee's report/recommendation is expected to send a written explanation for his/her refusal to sign the appropriate Dean.

The Provost notifies the candidate in writing of his/her decision to either recommend or not recommend reappointment and tenure to the president.

7. By June 13. Candidate has the right to respond formally to the Provost's recommendation. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application.

Provost sends recommendation to the President.

8. By June 30. Action is taken by the Board of Trustees on President's recommendation for reappointment. Notification of reappointment or non-reappointment is sent to the candidate.

C. In the Third Year

NOTE: The process described below is followed when the review in the second year results in reappointment for the fourth and fifth year (i.e., the normal pattern). Should the second year review result in appointment just for the fourth year, then the process in the third year follows the pattern of the second year. (See Note above under "In the Second Year.")

1. By May 15. The review at the end of the third year follows the pattern of the review in the first year. The candidate submits an updated Standard Application for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion. Candidates do not need to include all of the supporting materials, although they should submit any supporting materials that they want to review with the PTC (e.g. reprints or pre-prints of scholarly articles, or the syllabus and course materials for a new course). They should include fall and spring student evaluations as well as peer teaching evaluations.
2. By May 25. The candidate meets with the PTC to review his or her continuing progress. The purpose of this face-to-face conversation is to encourage the candidate in his or her professional development, to offer honest feedback and constructive advice, and to provide structure to the department's/program's responsibility to mentor its untenured faculty members. Because this is the year preceding the tenure review, it is important for the department/program to offer advice to the candidate that is both straightforward and constructive.

This conversation is then summarized in the form of a letter to the candidate from the PTC. Chairs should note that the discussion should be a meaningful one, and that the letter – about one (1) to two (2) pages should not be a repeat of the application, but rather, it should truly characterize the conversation, and address both strengths and weaknesses of the application. This letter shall include the phrase, "by signing this letter, I agree that its contents summarize the discussion between the PTC and the candidate" and should be signed by all members of the PTC and the candidate. By signing the letter, member of the PTC indicate their participation in the conversation and verify that the letter accurately summarizes the conversation between the candidate and the PTC; signing does not necessarily indicate that person concurs with all of the points raised in the letter.¹³

¹³ Any PTC member who refuses to sign the committee's report/recommendation is expected to send a written explanation for his/her refusal to sign the appropriate Dean.

3. By May 29. The candidate has the right to respond formally to this letter. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application. The Dean is also sent a copy of all correspondence including the standard application.
4. By June 15. The Dean reviews PTC letter and standard application. Should the Dean have concerns about the content of the letter or its clarity, the Dean may elect to meet with the PTC or the candidate for additional conversation. The Dean issues a written acknowledgment to the candidate and the PTC, with a copy to the Provost.

D. In the Fourth Year

1. By April 1. The fourth year review mirrors the second year process. The candidate may apply for reappointment to a sixth year with tenure by submitting a dossier consisting of the updated Standard Application for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion the Professional Development Essay, and supporting materials. The essay allows the candidate to interpret and explain the significance of the record as presented in the application. It enables the candidate to reflect deliberately on his or her professional development in the areas of teaching or librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. It points to future goals and aspirations. An effective presentation is clear, concise, accurate, and balanced. A typical essay may range from four (4) to eight (8) pages.
2. By April 15. The documents submitted serve as the basis for a conversation between the candidate and the committee regarding eligibility for tenure.

This conversation results in an evaluation report to the Dean from the PTC. The recommendation for successful candidates in their fourth year will normally be for reappointment to their sixth year and tenure. An unsuccessful candidate will not be recommended for reappointment beyond their fifth year. This report is voted on by the appropriate members of the department/program. All members of a PTC must sign the recommendation. By signing a recommendation, members of the PTC indicate their participation in the decision-making process and verify that the recommendation accurately reflects the decision of the PTC; signing does not necessarily indicate that person concurs with the ultimate recommendation.¹⁴ Once signed by all members of the PTC, the candidate must receive a copy.

3. By April 19. The candidate has the right to respond formally to this evaluation report. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application.

PTC submits evaluation report to the Dean; this report will include the dossier and the PTC's recommendation as well as the candidate's response if any.

4. By May 15. The Dean reviews the dossier and the PTC report and meets with the chair of the PTC and chair of the department/program (where applicable). The Dean also has the option to meet with the candidate.

¹⁴ Any PTC member who refuses to sign the committee's report/recommendation is expected to send a written explanation for his/her refusal to sign the appropriate Dean.

The Dean then submits an independent evaluation report and recommendation to the Provost, with a copy to the candidate and the department/program.

5. By May 19. The candidate has the right to respond formally to the Dean's evaluation report. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application.

Dean submits recommendation and dossier to the Provost.

6. By June 11. The Provost reviews the complete dossier, including the evaluation reports from the PTC and the Dean, and prepares a recommendation concerning reappointment for the President and the Board of Trustees. The Provost may meet with the candidate, PTC, or Dean as needed in preparing this recommendation.

The Provost notifies the candidate in writing of his/her decision to either recommend or not recommend reappointment and tenure to the president. A recommendation for tenure includes reappointment to the sixth year. A recommendation against tenure results in a recommendation to terminate the appointment following a fifth (and final) year.

7. By June 13. Candidate has the right to respond formally to the Provost's recommendation. This response will be included as part of the candidate's application.

Provost sends recommendation to the President.

8. By June 30. Action is taken by the Board of Trustees on President's recommendation for appointment. Notification of reappointment or non-reappointment is sent to the candidate.

V. DEPARTMENT/PROGRAM PROMOTION AND TENURE COMMITTEE (PTC)¹⁵

A. Membership/Eligibility

1. Minimum Number

A department/program of ten (10) or fewer members must have at least three (3) members on its PTC; a department/program of more than ten (10) members must have at least five (5) members. In cases where the department chair/program director does not vote, he or she may serve ex officio but is not counted among the number of individuals making up the committee.

2. Eligibility of Members

PTC members must be tenured with the exception of the department chair/program director who, even if untenured, may, at the choice of the department/program, serve ex officio with vote.

Candidates for promotion are eligible for the PTC, but must absent themselves from all promotion discussions.

¹⁵ Large departments/programs may decide to have a committee for promotion and a second committee for tenure/reappointment in order to distribute the work to more faculty.

3. Outside Members

A department/program with insufficient members available to serve on its committee may elect members of other departments/programs who meet eligibility requirements. Each department/program shall file with the Office of Academic Affairs the names of up to three (3) departments/programs representing related or cognate disciplines from which it may elect members. A department/program with insufficient membership on its committee will poll the members of the identified departments/programs to determine who is interested in serving. These names shall be placed on a departmental/programmatic ballot, and a sufficient number shall be elected to bring the number on the committee to the required minimum.

4. Service on Multiple Committees

- a. A faculty member or librarian may serve on the PTC of different departments/programs.
- b. Faculty and librarians serving on a PTC who also serve on the College Promotions Committee (CPC) should recuse themselves from the promotions process within their own departments/programs.

5. Joint-Appointments

A PTC consisting of members of all departments or programs involved will be formed for each reappointment, tenure, or promotion case involving a joint-appointment. If the department(s) or program(s) with which the candidate is affiliated have ten (10) or fewer members between them, they must elect a PTC of at least three (3) members, with one (1) member drawn from each of the two affiliated department(s) or program(s). Assuming that there are a sufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the candidate shall have the right to designate from which of the affiliated department(s) or program(s) the third member shall be elected. If there are an insufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the third member of the PTC must be drawn from whichever department or program has a tenured faculty member who is able to serve on the PTC. If neither department or program has a sufficient number of tenured faculty, then the third member of the PTC must be drawn from a related cognate discipline suggested by the candidate and approved by the Office of Academic Affairs.

If the department(s) or program(s) with which the candidate is affiliated have more than ten (10) members between them, they must elect at least five (5) members to the PTC, with two (2) members drawn from each of the two affiliated department(s) or program(s). Assuming that there are a sufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the candidate shall have the right to designate from which of the affiliated department(s) or program(s) the fifth member shall be elected. If there are an insufficient number of tenured faculty in both departments or programs, then the fifth member of the PTC must be drawn from whichever department or program has a tenured faculty member who is able to serve on the PTC. If neither department or program has a sufficient number of tenured faculty, then the fifth member of the PTC must be drawn from a related cognate discipline suggested by the candidate and approved by the Office of Academic Affairs.

Like other PTCs, members of joint-appointment PTCs must be tenured with the exception of a department chair or program director who, even if untenured, may, at the choice of the department/program, serve ex officio with vote. Candidates for promotion are eligible for the PTC, but must absent themselves from all promotion discussions. In the event that a member must absent himself/herself, then a replacement PTC member must be added to the committee in accordance with the procedures outlined in the previous two paragraphs.

B. Selection of Committee Members

1. The department/program may by simple majority vote designate committee membership to be comprised of all tenured faculty members in the department/program or;
2. Where a department/program chooses to elect its members, it shall develop election procedures and conduct elections. Elections will be conducted no later than March 30th.
3. By May 1st, the department/program must notify its Dean of the names of its PTC members and chair.
4. All PTC selection procedures shall be filed with the Office of Academic Affairs through the appropriate Dean no later than September 1. Prior to implementation, these will be reviewed jointly by the Union and The College to assure fairness and equity. Once reviewed, departmental/programmatic selection procedures will be made public.

A. The Professional Development Essay precedes the application format below. The essay allows the candidate to interpret and explain the significance of the record as presented in the application. It enables the candidate to reflect deliberately on his or her professional development in the areas of teaching or librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional activity, and service. It should include specific examples of excellent teaching/librarianship and its effectiveness in achieving learning outcomes, in preparing students for life after college and careers, of the significance of scholarship etc., and the scope of service. The essay should also include a description of how the candidate believes he/she has fulfilled the appropriate qualifications for reappointment, tenure, or promotion, as well as a discussion of future goals and aspirations. An effective presentation is clear, concise, accurate, and balanced. The Professional Development Essay should consist of no more than ten (10) single-spaced pages (with twelve-point font and one-inch margins). A typical essay may range from three (3) to eight (8) pages.

B. The Disciplinary Standards document for the candidate's department or program follows the Professional Development Essay.

C. Copies of previous evaluation letters and candidate's responses (if any). Candidates for reappointment include all letters from previous reappointments. Candidates for promotion include only letters from previous promotion applications during the last three (3) years.

I. Academic and Professional Employment

Indicate dates, employer, title, and brief job description as appropriate, beginning with the most recent experience. Indicate whether full-time or part-time experience.

II. Educational Background

- A. Degrees and diplomas, including dates, institutions and areas of specialization.
- B. Title of dissertation and name of supervisor.
- C. Post-doctoral fellowships or advanced professional certifications.

III. Academic or Professional Honors, Prizes, and Awards

Provide type of honor, conferring authority/organization, and date of honor.

IV. Teaching Record

- A. Delivery of instruction for courses taught at TCNJ.
 - 1. List by course, noting which semesters each was offered and course enrollments (based on final grade sheets).
 - 2. Discuss the quality of your teaching effectiveness. Refer to supporting documentation which should be provided in an appendix (or appendices) to the application, including peer evaluations, student feedback forms, and other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates for reappointment (including tenure) should provide supporting documentation for all of the years during which they have taught at TCNJ. Candidates for promotion should limit their supporting documentation to the past three (3) to five (5) years. (see Supporting Documentation section below for details)
 - 3. Discuss your contributions to the liberal learning program such as First Seminar Program (FSP).
- B. Selected course materials.
- C. New courses, curricula, or pedagogies developed at TCNJ.
- D. Independent research, independent studies, and other non-classroom modes of instruction. Provide evidence of success in an appendix (or appendices).
- E. External curricular grants, including those awarded, those resubmitted with revision, and those submitted but declined.
- F. TCNJ curricular grants awarded.

- G. Participation in professional conferences or workshops related to teaching in your discipline. Indicate sponsoring group, topic, date, place, and extent of participation. Discuss the impact on the candidate's teaching.

V. Librarianship Record

A. Areas of responsibility at TCNJ

List by service or activity. Provide applicable examples and documentation such as:

1. Accomplishments in performance of daily activities.
 2. Work on new Programs and policies.
 3. Liaison services to campus community.
 4. Peer letters.
- B. Materials prepared for colleagues or library users.
 - C. New programs, policies, or services developed at TCNJ.
 - D. Library reading programs or other individual instructional activities.
 - E. Administrative, coordinating or supervisory activities.
 - F. Participation in professional conferences or workshops related to teaching in your discipline. Indicate sponsoring group, topic, date, place, and extent of participation. Discuss the impact on the candidate's librarianship.

VI. Advising and Mentoring Record

Describe advising and mentoring contributions.

- A. Describe advising roles and advising load.
- B. Describe mentoring activities.
- C. Discuss the quality of the candidate's effectiveness as a mentor and advisor.
- D. While not required, a candidate is free to add any supporting documentation that the candidate feels may be relevant to explaining their advising and mentoring record (e.g., letters of support from students mentored by the candidate explaining the impact of said mentorship).

VII. Scholarly Record

List according to one of the standard bibliographic formats used in the academic disciplines. Where there are co-authors, indicate order of authorship and explain the degree and nature of collaboration with special attention paid to your contributions. All published work should be included in the materials presented during the evaluation process, but candidates should make clear which work has been completed subsequent to appointment at The College.

- A. Books and monographs authored.
- B. Books edited or compiled.
- C. Books and monographs in progress.
Specify extent of progress and nature of volume (authored or edited), including especially any contracts with publishers.
- D. Journal articles (published or in press in scholarly, refereed journals).

- E. Journal articles completed and "under review" for publication. Indicate date, place, and status of submission.
- F. Articles published in refereed conference proceedings.
- G. Chapters and essays published or in press in edited volumes (note manner of invitation or selection).
- H. Papers, lectures, posters, abstracts, and/or presentations at professional conferences (note significance of the conference within the discipline; whether it was national, regional, or local; and whether refereed).
- I. Published software, audio, multimedia, and so on (note whether refereed).
- J. External peer-reviewed scholarly grants, including those awarded, those resubmitted with revision, and those submitted but declined.
- K. TCNJ scholarly grants awarded.
- L. Reviews of books, software, creative performances, and so on.
- M. Reports from grant or contract work.
- N. Essays or other written work in trade magazines without scholarly referees.
- O. Additional research projects or scholarly works in progress. Specify nature of the work and provide evidence of the extent of progress.
- P. Service as an editor of a scholarly journal or volume.
- Q. Service as a reviewer of a scholarly journal, volume, work, or proposal.

VIII. Creative Record

- A. Creative works completed.
Indicate type of work, date of completion, collaborators, if any, and nature of and extent collaboration, and current location of work. If there is a sponsoring organization, provide information about its significance within the discipline.
- B. Juried shows, exhibitions, and performances (note whether national, regional, or local).
- C. Unjuried shows, exhibitions, and performances.
- D. Creative works commissioned or sold.
- E. Performances by others of music, poetry, plays, etc. that you have authored.
- F. External peer-reviewed creative grants, including those awarded, those resubmitted with revision, and those submitted but declined.
- G. TCNJ creative grants awarded.
- H. Creative works in progress.
Specify extent of progress and nature of the work.

IX. Professional Activity Record

Professional services as a consultant or practitioner are considered scholarly activity when they involve the creation rather than application of knowledge and impact significantly on one's discipline. Work that involves the application of knowledge should be included in the Record of Service. Indicate type of work, name of institution/organization, dates, description of activity.

- A. Original research performed while serving as a consultant.
- B. Standards created for a national or regional accreditation agency.
- C. Curricula designed for national or regional use.

X. Professional, Intellectual, Creative Development

- A. Current matriculation in a degree program. Submit in the supporting documentation a letter from the appropriate graduate advisor indicating: student status, nature of study, Program, institution, anticipated date of completion.
- B. Courses completed since highest degree was awarded. Provide photocopy of transcript in the supporting documentation.
- C. Post-doctoral study, internships, personal study, workshops attended, recertification

XI. Administrative or Coordination Activities

Supporting Documentation to the Application for Reappointment and Promotion

Materials in support of your application should be attached as appendices, arranging them in an order consistent with the application format. You need include only those materials that are significant and that will assist others in understanding the nature and importance of your professional work. You are not expected to have materials in every category, except where noted below. Include materials only as they support and clarify your particular record.

Examples of materials you might include (some are required as noted for teaching faculty):

1. Teaching or Librarianship Materials:
 - a. Teaching Materials:
 - ◆ syllabi for courses taught (including the most recent example of each)
 - ◆ examples of materials, handouts, assignments, exams , etc., that demonstrate pedagogical advances and innovations, especially those designed to enhance student learning or expand the curriculum in significant ways
 - b. Librarianship Materials:
 - ◆ examples of materials, handouts, web pages, etc., created for student or staff use that demonstrate advancement of library operations or services
2. Required: Peer teaching observations: Peer teaching evaluations must be included in accordance with the requirements of either the reappointment or promotions document, depending upon which process the application is being made. (See pages 4 and 29).
3. Required: Summary of official College student feedback form results (not the scantron forms themselves) and student comment sheets. For Reappointment these should be included for every course taught every semester. For promotion these should be included for every course taught in the three (3) years prior to the application.
4. Independent Research or Study Students
 - ◆ list of student names and a brief abstract of their projects (as appropriate)
 - ◆ short description of post-graduation accomplishments of mentored students, if known
5. Academic Advising and Mentoring
 - ◆ materials developed or used in support of academic advising and mentoring
 - ◆ any supporting documentation that the candidate feels may be relevant to explaining their advising and mentoring record (e.g., letters of support from students mentored by the candidate explaining the impact of said mentorship)

6. Scholarly, Creative, or Professional Work

- a. Required: external professional peer evaluations of their scholarly/creative/professional work (see Appendix IV)
- b. Required: select evidence of scholarly/creative/professional work which may include:
 - ◆ copies of published books, articles, essays, abstracts, reports, grants, grant reviews, and so on, arranged according to the categories listed in the application
 - ◆ copies of letters indicating acceptance of materials submitted for publication or the status of materials under review
 - ◆ objective or independent information pertaining to the significance of your work such as copies of professional reviews of your scholarly or creative work, citation counts, and course adoptions
 - ◆ copies, photographic images, audiotapes or videotapes, URL addresses, etc. of creative work produced

7. Record of Service

- ◆ copies of significant written material produced (e.g., reports or documents), indicating your specific contribution
- ◆ a letter from a person in a supervisory capacity citing any special contribution

Special Instructions for Promotion Candidates

To better serve both the candidate for promotion and those evaluating materials for promotion, the following suggestion regarding the submission of materials is offered. Note that the format described in Part A is not required.

A. Binders

It is suggested that four (4) separate binders be used, including one for the candidate's application, essay, PTC recommendation, Dean's letter, candidate's responses, and letters from outside reviewers, and one each for the supporting documentation for teaching or librarianship, scholarly/creative/professional/ activity, and service. Copies of published material that do not fit within the binder should be provided in a file box with a lid that is clearly labeled. This includes CDs, videotapes, and other material that may be accessed electronically.

B. Weblinks

It is imperative that the candidate be certain that weblinks that are to be accessed by members of the promotions committees are live at the time of deliberation and that the web addresses are accurate.
